

Restricted Access Piling

Location: Rhosneigr, Anglesey

Client: Russell Limited

Project Overview

Russells Limited, Manchester base private property development group, had secured planning permission to build luxury apartments in the picturesque Anglesey location of Rhosneigr.

Pennine was appointed to undertake the piling work on the site which presented particular topographical and geological issues. An integral part of the development project was that site hours were short and restricted and noise had to be managed sensitively.

Result

Pennine installed 177 piles using pneumatic rotary percussive drilling methods and subsequent installation and concreting of steel reinforcing cages.
